Greg - thanks for the intro. Moving you to bcc.

Sean - great to meet you. Yeah, it'd be great to meet-up. Can you either shoot me some times that work for you, or if you have an admin can you connect him or her with Sara Geiger (cc'd) to help us find time?

Thanks for reaching out - looking forward to meeting.

Thanks for the intro and kind words Greg.

Pleasure to meet you Mike!
Would love to share a big product change we're working on and get your thoughts.
Do you have time for a drink near your office anytime soon?

Sean Rad
Founder & CEO, Tinder

Mike, I'm introducing you to Sean Rad, the founder and CEO of Tinder. I've gotten to know Sean a bit over the last many months and have been impressed both by his product sense and his sense of mission. Tinder, as you know, has a solid and strong partnership with Facebook, and Sean would like to strengthen that by building a relationship with you to augment the relationships of his team with the partner team at FB (e.g., I me).

Sean, Vernal is an old-timer at Facebook whose running a bunch of important areas now, and has long been running the Platform team, iterating on it for much of his time at Facebook. He's got a lot on his plate now, but I know that platform is still near and dear to his heart, and he cares lots about the success of partners like Tinder.

I'll leave it to you guys to connect, and I hope that it'll be valuable to each of you!

Greg
