Hello Mark,

The team got back to me to suggest that your coverage is really good and if possible, we would like to get a sample of your raw data for restaurants in SF.

Could you please help us get access to this sample?

Thanks a lot,
kp

Hi KP,

Please find attached the filled out excel sheet. It contains restaurant data for 3 cities, San Francisco, New York and London, with venues categorized by publishable venues, open table venues and valid venues.

Let us know any questions.

Thanks,

Yes, of course congrats!!!

Besides the spreadsheet, our eng team would love to have a sample of your raw data. Happy to swing bye and say hi when you are here on Friday.

Thanks again and good luck,
kp

Hey KP,

As you may have seen in the press, there has been a lot going on here so, apologies for the delay.

I do have an engineer working on the spreadsheet you supplied and should have it to you by end of week. Also, I'll be down at FB HQ on Friday meeting with Neil and team.

Thanks,
-M

Hello Mark,

While I am trying to establish how a partnership involving Neal's team may evolve, is there any chance you can provide us with a sample of your data?

As per our call it would be great to establish your content is indeed as suitable for our needs as we think it is, prior to going deeper into a conversation involving other teams/functions.

Maybe all restaurants with their menus from SF would be a good starting point.

Thoughts?

Hi Konstantinos,

No worries – Welcome to California!

Wednesday looks good for me. How does 10am, 11am, or 2pm PST work for a call?

Cheers,
Mark

Hello Mark,

Apologies for the late response! I was moving to California from London last week and certain things, like responding to this, were lost...

How is your schedule this week? Happy to make time around your availability.

Let me know,
kp

Hi Konstantinos,

Thanks for reaching out and providing additional information.

Would be good to have a call around this before filling out all this information just to give an overview of how we view the Locu data today post acquisition by GoDaddy and in light of the new product we launched, Get Found.

Here is some additional background --

How does a call work on Friday at 10am PST?

Thanks,
Mark

Hello Mark,

Moving our convo to our business email addresses.

As a leading provider of information on services and places related to the food/restaurant industry, we would like to have a conversation with you about licensing your data. Restaurants, bars and night clubs are places where most people on Facebook check-in and is really important for us to ensure we have good coverage.

Assuming this is of interest to you, we would like to confirm the coverage and the richness of your data for London, NYC and San Francisco. Could you please complete the attached spreadsheet for each of the named cities? In addition it would be very helpful, if you could also give us access to sample data (all restaurants in a neighborhood).

Finally, we would like to understand the working model for licensing your data, so any information you can provide here would be very helpful.

Looking forward to working with you,
kp
